A Great Opportunity

A Great Opportunity Ending Date June  2020

Inclusion Initiative  The World Health Organization estimates that nearly 1 billion people—15 percent of the world’s population—live with a disability that significantly affects their daily life. Jewish or not, individuals with disabilities and their families need social, health, educational, and other support that the JCC and Federation can and should provide. People with disabilities are often described as the world’s largest minority group. Whether through sudden accident or gradual aging, most people will experience some form of disability over the course of their life. Strengthening the future of the Greater New Haven community requires that all people be included to the best of their abilities. Building support structures—both physical and programmatic—to accommodate our constituents’ varying needs is essential to fully realizing the missions of the JCC and Jewish Federation. Over the last two years, we have increased the organization’s accessibility by installing the following:  Optilex Reader for the visually impaired in the library  ADA shower stall improvements in the spas and locker rooms  ADA accessible lockers in the locker rooms  ADA lifts installed in the whirlpool areas  Accessible fitness equipment purchased for the new Fitness Center  Audio improvements for the hearing impaired in the Vine Family Auditorium  Fitness classes for wheelchair bound and physically limited persons  Social opportunities for common interest groups  Adaptive aquatics classes for wheelchair bound and physically limited persons  In addition, the partnership between the JCC and Chapel Haven will launch a community needs assessment that will help determine what additional opportunities for persons with disabilities and their families are most pressing. Potential programs include:  Inclusive and adaptive programs at JCC for all ages  Workshops for parents and caretakers navigating life cycle events such as primary school, college, and assisted living transitions  Transportation assistance for home-bound individuals  Sports and recreation activities for wheelchair bound and physically limited persons  Support groups for family members  Respite care for parents with disabled children  To fulfill the needs of our community adequately and successfully, the organization will require a dedicated professional to carry out the priorities derived from the needs assessment, work with constituents to develop long-term strategies, and take the steps necessary toward implementation. As we think about the “differently able” we will also address concerns specific to the aging community. Greater New Haven is an aging community. The future we envision for the community building is one of inter-generational activity that will impact all ages. To do so, accessibility must not be a barrier.
