Dear Ms. Victoria Carnera,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for sharing your knowledge and expertise with our kindergarten, second and fourth grade students this past Spring. The feedback from students, parents, and staff was very positive and your conscious effort to tailor each lesson to the specific age group was greatly appreciated. It is so important that we continue to work together with programs like yours to ensure the safety and well-being of our future generations.

I look very forward to our continued partnership for years to come. I know the work you do is so invaluable to our school community and there are not enough thanks to give.

Please let me know if I can ever be of any assistance or reciprocate in any way.

Sincerely,
Mario Ciccarini

To Whom It May Concern:

The Rape Crisis Center has been providing education for our 255 preschool Head Start and School Readiness children for over five years. The program is interactive, age appropriate, letters go out to the parents, and each child receives a puppet. The education about “Good Touch, Bad Touch” is valuable to our program because of the population we serve and is valuable to any program that has the opportunity to be a part of it. We are very grateful to the Rape Crisis Center for providing this education free of charge and we look forward to their visit every year.

Please contact me for any additional information.

Sincerely,

Heather Harris

Dear Victoria:

I want to thank you again for coming to Emmett O’Brien Technical High School and speaking to our 11th grade students about Sexual Assault, Consent, Dating Violence and “Sexting.” Your willingness to accommodate our less than ideal classroom environment - as we enter year two of a three year renovation project - was greatly appreciated. (I promise that you will not have to compete with any jackhammers in the background this year!)

This marks the eighth year that the Community Education Program has brought their high school curriculum to our school. Delivered through our Health classes in the spring, the instructors enthusiastically welcome a fresh approach to these difficult and ever evolving topics. The honest and naturally engaging manner of the community educators quickly puts students at ease and promotes lively discussions. Following every presentation, a dozen or more students always remark about how much they enjoyed and learned from the presentation.

The Rape Crisis Center of Milford is an invaluable resource for raising our students’ awareness of a terribly important topic. We look forward to many more years of support from the Center and their first-rate community programming.

Sincerely,

Mindy S. Daria
